MOVE TO PROTECT U.S. GOLD

NAB IRONTON HOTEL BANDIT

TURNER, WANTED IN THREE ROBBERIES HERE, IN CUSTODY

COP'S BLOWS KNOCK GUNMAN UNCONCIOUS AS SIX VIC-TIMS LOOK ON

When Wm. Bierman, Ironton policeman, strategically thwarted a holdup in the Spina hotel on the Cuyuna Range at 3 a. m. today by overpowering a bandit who flourished a menacing .45 calibre automatic revolver, he had no idea of the importance of the move to Brainerd and Crow Wing authorities.

Indictments Against Him

The bandit was later identified as Robert Turner, 23, Brainerd, wanted on three grand jury indictments for crimes committed in Brainerd 18 months ago.

Turner was brought to Brainerd this morning and locked in the county jail. Sheriff Frank E. Little and Deputy Sheriff George Ridley recognized him as the man wanted by county authorities for a year and a half to answer indictments charging him with aiding in the burglarizing of the Brainerd Foundry, the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. storage garage and the theft of an automobile from the Walter F. Tyrolm lot.

Two other men, Ledoux and Gunion are now serving sentences in the state's prison at Stillwater for their part in the crimes. Ledoux, asserted ring leader of the gang is serving up to 12 years while Gunion is serving a term of up to two years.

Held to Grand Jury

County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan stated this afternoon that he will hold Turner to the grand jury next month. He said he would not press the past charges against Turner at this time because of the seriousness of the present charge.

Sullivan will ask the jury for an indictment charging Turner with attempted robbery in the first degree which if a conviction is made will place Turner behind the bars in state's prison for a term not exceeding 10 years.

Points to Conviction

Sullivan said that he looked for a clear cut case in the evidence against Turner on the attempted robbery charge.

That evidence will comprise the testimony of six men who were seated in a lunch room in the hotel when Turner entered early today and gruffly ordered them to stick up their hands and give him their money.

The capture of the bandit followed the entry of Bierman who saw the holdup scene through the street window.

Cop Overpowers Bandit

Witnesses to the holdup stated that Turner swung around as the policeman entered and ordered him to raise his hands also. They said Bierman complied, approaching the gunman cautiously. A few feet from Turner Bierman jumped. His arms went over the bandit's shoulder, then he grabbed the gun. As Turner turned to meet the attack, the policeman swung hard with his fists, knocking the bandit unconscious with blows to the chin.

Bierman handcuffed the bandit and took him to the Ironton jail where he kept close tab on him until county authorities arrived this morning.

Alleged Partner Nabbed

A second man who was seen talking to Turner in Ironton Sunday was picked up by county authorities and taken to Brainerd for questioning.

The arrest of Turner, authorities said, will clear up the robberies of copper wire, valued at $1500, from the north side garage which the Bell Telephone Co. had rented to store it in. It will also write the closing episode to the Brainerd Foundry robbery when a quantity of zinc was stolen. Turner (Continued on Page 5)

DOG LEADS 'HUMAN CHAIN' OF BLIND TO SAFETY WHEN FIRE THREATENS BUILDING

Pittsburgh, Oct. 26.—(UP)—A large section of downtown traffic was at a standstill today while a "human chain" of 75 blind men and women marched out of their building after fire started in the basement.

The 75 were ready for work at the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind when fire started in the basement. The sightless men and women quickly formed into line, hands on shoulders of the person ahead of them for guidance, and marched to the street. Passing motorists and pedestrians quickly formed a cordon of safety about them, disrupting traffic but preventing injury to the blind.

One group of the blind was led by a dog which is the constant companion and guide of one of the men. Others were led by employees who can see, some filing through the front door while others went down the fire escape at the rear.

Flags are asked to be flown from sunrise to sunset tomorrow in observance of the occasion.

PASSENGERS' DESIRE FOR THRILLS BLAMED FOR FATAL AIR CRASH

FIVE DIE WHEN PLANE CRASHES AFTER WING IS SHEARED OFF IN NEBRASKA

Alliance, Neb., Oct. 26.—(UP)—Desire for four passengers for thrills, and willingness of their pilot, flying a borrowed plane, to supply them, today was blamed for a crash which claimed five lives.

A Ryan monoplane, a wing sheared off in mid-air, crashed to earth near here from 500 feet, carrying its entire human burden to death.

The dead: William Doval, Alliance, the pilot; William Parley, Alliance; W. W. Tibbets, Alliance; Dawes Hollibaugh, Chadron; Henry Been, Ashby. Mayor Earl Mallory of Alliance, and his pilot, Art Peterson, were the only witnesses to the crash, which occurred two miles from the local airport, that Doval appeared to bringing the ship out of a wingover or loop when the wing gave way.

Calculus, Calif., Oct. 26.—(UP)—Harold Nichols, 27, and Clarence Ellsworth, 26, were killed yesterday when the plane in which Nichols was taking flying lessons from Ellsworth went into a nosedive from an altitude of 1,000 feet.

Painesville, Ohio, Oct. 26.—(UP)—An attempted forced landing in a home made plane resulted fatally for 18-year old Mary Dorr of Cleveland and injured Raymond L. Manson, 24, East Cleveland, who was recovering today in the Lake County hospital.

ARMED GUARDSMEN MOVE GAINS SUPPORT AT KRAFT FUNERAL

PLAN FOR ARMED PATROL SUPPORTED BY COUNTY BANKERS ASSOCIATION

Menominee, Wis., Oct. 26.—(UP)—Organization of a Wisconsin state constabulary to check "a wave of lawlessness which is sweeping the northwest" gained support today after county officials had voiced such a demand at the funeral of James Kraft, 19, killed by bandits who held up the Kraft State Bank.

Judge George Thompson of the eighth judicial circuit made the principal address at the funeral and his plan for a state constabulary was backed by A. C. Bronken, president of the Dunn County Bankers association.

While James Kraft's body was being buried, a brother, William R. Kraft, in the hospital suffering from a bullet wound inflicted by the bandits, was informed for the first time of his brother's death.

Meanwhile police officials checking back on the activities of two of the bandits who were killed in a running gun fight after the robbery discovered buckshot wounds on their bodies, indicating they had been shot at about three weeks ago, it was said.

CAPONE WINS DELAY FROM PRISON TRIP BY COURT ORDER

HEARING OF PLEA FOR WRIT OF SUPERSEDEAS AND BOND SET FOR TUESDAY

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(UP)—"Scarface Al" Capone's journey to Leavenworth penitentiary was ordered delayed temporarily today by the circuit court of appeals.

The order halted Capone's scheduled removal from the county jail to a train late today to start for the prison where he is under a 10-year sentence

Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 26.—(UP)—Chicago's underworld may make Al Capone's every whim its command, but the vice-lord will "toe the line just like any other prisoners" when he enters Leavenworth federal penitentiary.

"Capone will receive treatment accorded all prisoners," said Warden Thomas B. White today. "We have no 'big shots' here."

Capone's costly clothes will be replaced by rough denim and heavy brogans.

after conviction of income tax fraud. Decision on defense plea for a writ of superseas and bond was set for 2 p. m. tomorrow by Circuit Judges Samuel Alschuler, Will M. Sparks, and Evan A. Evans, after the plea had been argued.

Capone was not present at the hearing. He remained in his jail cell. After the 10-year penitentiary sentence is completed, he would have to return to jail for another year to satisfy the 11-year total imposed by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

For two hours Defense Attorney Albert Fink and Assistant United States Attorney Jacob Grossman disputed the question of superseas and bond in Judge Alschuler's office.

AUTO CRASHES OVER WEEKEND IN AREA TAKE THREE LIVES

TWO MINNESOTA PEOPLE AND ONE SOUTH DAKOTAN KILLED IN ACCIDENTS

St. Paul, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Three persons were killed in automobile accidents in the Twin City area during the weekend.

They were W. B. Campbell, 73, Chester, S. D.; Mrs. Anna Ludden, 70, St. Paul, and Robert Engh, 11, St. James, Minn.

The car in which Campbell was riding collided with another driven by M. L. Reber, St. Paul, on highway No. 63 south of New Brighton. Reber was unconscious today and was believed to have suffered a skull fracture. Campbell's daughter, Mrs. Anna Gripney, Staples, Minn., was in a critical condition.

Mrs. Ludden was injured Friday when struck by a street car. She died last night.

Engh was killed when the automobile in which he was riding struck an Omaha passenger train near St. James. Robert Clark, Sr., another occupant of the automobile, suffered internal injuries, two broken arms, and a broken rib.

Two carloads of Minneapolis youths struck a Soo line freight train in that city last night, injuring the drivers, George Patterson, 21, Minneapolis, and Frank Smutny, 24, Minneapolis.

MISSOURI MARCHERS DEMAND SESSION FOR RELIEF MEASURES

ASK UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE, FREE TEXTBOOKS, MORATORIUM FOR FARMERS

Jefferson, City, Mo., Oct. 26.—(UP)—Ragged and unkempt, some 300 "hunger marchers" paraded today through Jefferson City streets, to urge unemployment relief.

Yelling, singing, shouting, pausing to make impromptu speeches, the marchers made their way through principal streets of the Missouri capital, having formed their line outside the city. Several attempts to sing the communist "International" failed.

The marchers planned a mass meeting to choose delegates to call upon Governor Henry S. Caulfield to urge their program, which called for the following:

1. A special session of the state legislature to enact unemployment insurance measures providing each unemployed person with $150 for immediate needs, $10 a week, and $2 a week for each dependent.
2. Free textbooks for all children.
3. No eviction for non-payment of rent.
4. A three-year moratorium on farmers' debts, without accruing interest.

HOOVER PLANS MEASURES TO CHECK WITHDRAWALS

SAYS SAME BULLET THAT KILLED WOMAN HIT MRS. JUDD'S HAND

"NERVELESS BLONDE" AGREES TENTATIVELY TO FACE MURDER CHARGES IN ARIZONA

Los Angeles, Oct. 26.—(UP)—In the first of many court appearances she will have to make, in facing the charge that she murdered two of her girl friends, Winnie Ruth Judd was arraigned here today on a fugitive warrant.

The argument was a formality to place her in the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles courts. Judge Wilbert Curtis set a hearing on the fugitive warrant Nov. 9.

Los Angeles, Oct. 26.—(UP)—A startling new theory as to how Mrs. Ruth Judd received a pistol wound in her hand was advanced today as the "nerveless blonde" from Phoenix threw her own defense camp into confusion by agreeing tentatively to return to Arizona and face murder charges.

While her husband and attorneys made almost frantic efforts to prevent her extradition and to support her claim that she killed two girl friends in self defense, Mrs. Judd told Sheriff James McFadden of Phoenix she was ready to go back "whenever he said."

It was McFadden who advanced the new theory regarding the wound which Mrs. Judd claimed she received defending herself against Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Lerol, the two women she is accused of murdering and whose bodies, one dismembered, were shipped here as luggage.

The bullet that passed through the heart of Miss Samuelson was the same slug that was embedded in Ruth Judd's hand," declared McFadden.

"She shot the girl twice, then probably shot the body with her left hand while firing the final shot with her right. The bullet passed through Miss Samuelson's body and stopped in Mrs. Judd's hand."

Police officials tried without success to break down her story that Miss Samuelson had tried to shoot her and Mrs. Lerol had attacked her with an ironing board.

She refused to comment on an asserted confession which was found in the plumbing of a downtown department store where she hid the first night she was in Los Angeles.

Handwriting experts said they would determine today whether the letter was written in her hand. Police believed it was and believed it would prove important evidence against her, being in reality a "confession" written even before she surrendered.

UNIFICATION OF PROTESTANTISM IS KEYNOTE OF MEET

Atlanta, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Fifty million Methodists of the world were on record today in a pronouncement by their sixth ecumenical conference here favoring Protestant unification.

The decennial "address to Methodists of the world" was unanimously adopted by the closing session of the conference Sunday, pointed out that:

"Methodism stands in a strategic position in a larger Protestant union. It is primarily a spirit—not an ecclesiasticism; it is Catholic in membership and practice, it is Catholic in creed, having no creed except that common to all Christendom."

"In England its situation is different from that in Canada and the United States, but there is nothing in its genius to prevent its standing before Protestant communions."

MCDONALD FAVORED TO DOMINATE POLL IN BRITISH ELECTION

London, Oct. 26.—(UP)—The national government of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald continued the favorite today to win a parliamentary majority in the new house of commons to be elected tomorrow.

Political developments of the next few weeks depend upon the size of the national government's majority and particularly upon its makeup. Disposition of liberal votes where the party has no candidates is considered extremely important.

FIND MURDER WEAPONS

E. J. Bekthel, one of police investigators of the strange murder of two women whose bodies were found in two trunks and a suitcase at Los Angeles, is shown here examining a gun and set of knives believed to have been used in the slayings. The weapons were found in a suitcase in the women's rooms. At the upper left is Andrew V. Anderson, baggage man, whose refusal to release the trunks containing the bodies on account of blood stains on them, led to the discovery of the crime.

JAPAN STEADFASTLY REFUSES TO RECALL TROOPS AS BRIDGE FORCES FROM AREA WAR FLARES ANEW

CONSIDERED POSSIBLE, HOWEVER, THAT TROOPS WILL BE WITHDRAWN BY NOV. 16

Tokio, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Japan stood firm today on her refusal to set a definite date for withdrawal of her troops from Manchuria.

A restatement of the Japanese policy after refusing a League of Nations demand for withdrawal of troops by Nov. 16 was framed by the cabinet. There was no change in the government policy, and emphasis was placed on "scrupulous respect for Japan's rights and interest in Manchuria acquired by treaty."

It was announced officially that Japanese troops are occupying the Suipinghai-Taonan railway to protect Japanese interests. The most serious fighting in Manchuria occurred when Chinese troops attempted to destroy a Japanese-owned railway bridge and were bombed by Japanese aviators. China owns the railroad but the Japanese-owned South Manchurian railway and the Yokohama Specie bank holds mortgages on the road totalling yen 49,000,000.

It was considered possible that troops might be withdrawn within the treaty zone in Manchuria by Nov. 16 but withdrawal depended upon developments. Baron Shidehara insisted upon security for Japanese nationals and the pledge of non-aggression and respect for treaty rights.

Shift Prohibition Offices to St. Paul

St. Paul, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Federal prohibition headquarters are "now located in St. Paul" until the fate of M. L. Harney, northwestern prohibition administrator is settled, Amos W. W. Woodcock, federal prohibition director announced today.

Woodcock is investigating charges against Harney which held that Harney "let the big fellows get by and arrested the little fellows."

"I shall not leave St. Paul until I have gathered, sifted and judicially studied all available information and evidence," Woodcock said.

MURRAY ORDERS OUT TROOPS AS BRIDGE WAR FLARES ANEW

Durant, Okla., Oct. 26.—(UP)—A truck load of a dozen Oklahoma national guardsmen under command of Col. John A. McDonald, left here today for the free bridge over Red river.

"I have orders to keep the free bridge paralleling the toll structure open," Colonel McDonald said. "I have orders not to molest the toll bridge or its employees."

It was reported, but not immediately confirmed, that Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray was at the free bridge which was the subject of a federal court injunction hearing at Muskogee today.

The governor was en route from Dallas to Oklahoma City after making a speech at Dallas last night. He had threatened he would order military occupation of the bridge should the federal court grant bridge operators an injunction against using the free bridge.

MUSSOLINI JOINS RANKS OF STATESMEN CLAMORING FOR REVISION OF PEACE PACTS

Naples, Italy, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini, who rose to power leading the Fascist army's march on Rome nine years ago, has joined the ranks of world leaders clamoring for revision of world war peace treaties and reparations.

Addressing the largest audience he had ever faced, Mussolini told 300,000 Italians here such action was necessary to lead the world from the darkness into which it was plunged by the world war.

The premier's remarks were addressed to all Italians and not to Fascists alone, adding further distinction to his plea.

"If 60 long years (the estimated reparations period) must pass before we can write 'finis' to the tragic balance sheet built on the blood of 10,000,000 youths, we will never again see the light of day," Mussolini said.

"Can we say that judicial equality exists among nations when on one side there are those armed to the teeth, while on the other hand there are those miserably condemned to be disarmed?"

"How can we talk of European reconstruction if several clauses of the various peace treaties which have pushed the world to the brink of material disaster and moral desperation are not modified?"

"How long will it take to convince mankind that something is disjunct in the world's economic machine?"

Mussolini emphasized the necessity of government turning toward the people but avoiding monopolistic Bolshevism or obsolete liberalism.

WORLD EYES DEBTS PROGRAM AGREED ON BY HOOVER, LAVAL

GERMANY MUST TAKE INITIATIVE UNDER THE YOUNG REPARATIONS PLAN

By United Press
International statesmen conferred in many parts of the world over the weekend in efforts to aid world peace and financial rehabilitation. Conflicts in other parts of the globe remained unsettled.

Premier Pierre Laval and President

New York, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Premier Pierre Laval of France, the peasant lad who became president of the council of ministers, surveyed the metropolis from the observation tower of the world's tallest building today. The vista of lower New York made him feel he was in a country "whose energy, and constructive power is boundless," he said.

Josette, Laval's 19-year-old daughter, danced along the mooring mast platform on the 102nd floor of the building with John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, as her guide.

Hoover concluded their conversations at Washington on international finance and disarmament.

The president stressed the vital necessity of world peace and armament reduction in an address broadcast to the Methodist ecumenical congress at Atlanta.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Strengthened by Italian Premier Benito Mussolini's declarations at Naples urging modification of the peace treaties and revision of reparations, German-Italian cooperation toward such revision was expected today.

The visit here of Italian Foreign Minister Dino Grandi was expected to result in such a move.

Grandi called armaments the kernel of civilization's problems. Some quarters termed the expected cooperation a "diplomatic counter-offense" to protect German interests after Premier Pierre Laval's visit to Washington.

Great Britain took urgent measures to restore order in Cyprus, where anti-British mobs hauled down the Union Jack and raised the Greek standard.

Washington, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Prospect of further relief for war debts and reparations opened up today as a result of the visit of Premier Laval just ended. It is a move aimed at the heart of the world-wide depression. (Continued on Page 5)

The decennial "address to Methodists of the world" was unanimously adopted by the closing session of the conference Sunday, pointed out that: "Methodism stands in a strategic position in a larger Protestant union. It is primarily a spirit—not an ecclesiasticism; it is Catholic in membership and practice, it is Catholic in creed, having no creed except that common to all Christendom."

"In England its situation is different from that in Canada and the United States, but there is nothing in its genesis to prevent its standing before Protestant communions."

M'DONALD FAVORED TO DOMINATE POLL IN BRITISH ELECTION

London, Oct. 26.—(UP)—The national government of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald continued the favorite today to win a parliamentary majority in the new house of commons to be elected tomorrow.

Political developments of the next few weeks depend upon the size of the national government's majority and particularly upon its makeup. Disposition of liberal votes where the party has no candidates is considered extremely important.

FIND MURDER WEAPONS

E. J. Bekthel, one of police investigators of the strange murder of two women whose bodies were found in two trunks and a suitcase at Los Angeles, is shown here examining a gun and set of knives believed to have been used in the slayings. The weapons were found in a suitcase in the women's rooms. At the upper left is Andrew V. Anderson, baggage man, whose refusal to release the trunks containing the bodies on account of blood stains on them, led to the discovery of the crime.

JAPAN STEADFASTLY REFUSES TO RECALL TROOPS AS BRIDGE FORCES FROM AREA WAR FLARES ANEW

CONSIDERED POSSIBLE, HOW- EVER, THAT TROOPS WILL BE WITHDRAWN BY NOV. 16

Tokio, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Japan stood firm today on her refusal to set a definite date for withdrawal of her troops from Manchuria.

It was announced officially that Japanese troops are occupying the Suiping-Taonan railway to protect Japanese interests. The most serious fighting in Manchuria occurred when Chinese troops attempted to destroy a Japanese-owned railway bridge and were bombed by Japanese aviators. China owns the railroad but the Japanese-owned South Manchurian railroad and the Yokohama Specie bank holds mortgages on the road totalling yen 49,000,000.

It was considered possible that troops might be withdrawn within the treaty zone in Manchuria by Nov. 16 but withdrawal depended upon developments. Baron Shidehara insisted upon security for Japanese nationals and the pledge of non-aggression and respect for treaty rights.

Shift Prohibition Offices to St. Paul

St. Paul, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Federal prohibition headquarters are "now located in St. Paul" until the fate of M. L. Harney, northwestern prohibition administrator is settled, Amos W. W. Woodcock, federal prohibition director announced today.

Woodcock is investigating charges against Harney which held that Harney "let the big fellows get by and arrested the little fellows."

"I shall not leave St. Paul until I have gathered, sifted and judicially studied all available information and evidence," Woodcock said.

Durant, Okla., Oct. 26.—(UP)—A truck load of a dozen Oklahoma national guardsmen under command of Col. John A. McDonald, left here today for the free bridge over Red river.

"I have orders to keep the free bridge paralleling the toll structure open," Colonel McDonald said. "I have orders not to molest the toll bridge or its employees."

It was reported, but not immediately confirmed, that Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray was at the free bridge which was the subject of a federal court injunction hearing at Muskogee today.

The governor was en route from Dallas to Oklahoma City after making a speech at Dallas last night. He had threatened he would order military occupation of the bridge should the federal court grant bridge operators an injunction against using the free bridge.

MUSSOLINI JOINS RANKS OF STATESMEN CLAMORING FOR REVISION OF PEACE PACTS

Naples, Italy, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini, who rose to power leading the Fascist army's march on Rome nine years ago, has joined the ranks of world leaders clamoring for revision of world war peace treaties and reparations.

Addressing the largest audience he had ever faced, Mussolini told 300,000 Italians here such action was necessary to lead the world from the darkness into which it was plunged by the world war.

The premier's remarks were addressed to all Italians and not to Fascists alone, adding further distinction to his plea.

"If 60 long years (the estimated reparations period) must pass before we can write 'finis' to the tragic balance sheet built on the blood of 10,000,000 youths, we will never again see the light of day," Mussolini said.

"Can we say that judicial equality exists among nations when on one side there are those armed to the teeth, while on the other hand there have gathered, sifted and judicially studied all available information and evidence," Woodcock said.

"How can we talk of European re-

International statesmen conferred in many parts of the world over the weekend in efforts to aid world peace and financial rehabilitation. Conflicts in other parts of the globe remained unsettled.

Premier Pierre Laval and President

New York, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Premier Pierre Laval of France, the peasant lad who became president of the council of ministers, surveyed the metropolis from the observation tower of the world's tallest building today. The vista of lower New York made him feel he was in a country "whose energy, and constructive power is boundless," he said.

Josette, Laval's 19-year-old daughter, danced along the mooring mast platform on the 102nd floor of the building with John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, as her guide.

Hoover concluded their conversations at Washington on international finance and disarmament.

The president stressed the vital necessity of world peace and armament reduction in an address broadcast to the Methodist ecumenical congress at Atlanta.

Italian Foreign Minister Dino Grandi conferred with German statesmen at Berlin while Premier Benito Mussolini urged revision of peace treaties and reparations in an address at Naples.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Strengthened by Italian Premier Benito Mussolini's declarations at Naples urging modification of the peace treaties and revision of reparations, German-Italian cooperation toward such revision was expected today.

The visit here of Italian Foreign Minister Dino Grandi was expected to result in such a move.

Grandi called armaments the kernel of civilization's problems. Some quarters termed the expected cooperation a "diplomatic counter-offense" to protect German interests after Premier Pierre Laval's visit to Washington.

Manchurian situation but declined to name a date for withdrawal of her troops. Soviet forces were reported concentrated on the Manchurian frontier in greater than usual numbers. Mukden reported that Soviet officers were training Manchurian troops opposing the Japanese.

Great Britain took urgent measures to restore order in Cyprus, where anti-British mobs hauled down the Union Jack and raised the Greek standard.

Washington, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Prospect of further relief for war debts and reparations opened up today as a result of the visit of Premier Laval just ended. It is a move aimed at the heart of the world-wide depression. (Continued on Page 5)

CAR HITS, DRAGS FARMER YOUTH 20 FEET ON OAK ST.

VERNON BERG SUFFERS FRACTURED THIGH, POSSIBLE SKULL INJURY

X-Ray examination was being made today to determine possible skull fracture in the case of Vernon Berg, 21, Brainerd Route 1, knocked down and dragged 20 feet by a car as he walked across Oak street between 16th and 17th streets at 9 p. m. Sunday.

Berg was given strong hope for recovery, his doctor reporting that his condition was favorable. He suffered a fractured thigh and body bruises. The youth, weighing about 170 pounds, was knocked unconscious and rushed to the St. Joseph's hospital by the Whitney's ambulance.

Driver Notifies Police
R. K. Murray, railway conductor, Proctor, driver of the car, reported the accident immediately after to Chief of Police Thomas Templeton and said that he could be reached at any time at Proctor and would return to Brainerd if he was requested to. Such an understanding permitted Murray to leave for his home.

The driver told police that Berg appeared to him as jumping in front of his vehicle. Murray was driving a Packard sedan travelling east. He was alone. A front headlight and the bumper of the machine were broken and the fender bent from the impact. Two Brainerd men, C. E. Partlow and Arnold Niemi assisted Murray in picking up the unconscious man from the street.

A Value Policy That Has Stood the Test of Time
For years this establishment has pursued a value policy of strictest standards. People have learned to regard this policy as protection. They know from constant association that every price quoted represents the finest in available quality... and that we stock only merchandise of genuine worth. Now that the general trend has forced prices down all along the line, our prices naturally are lower. But values remain consistent—we have merely adjusted price levels as made possible by decreased expenses in every line—not to be confused with wanton price slashing or cheap merchandise.

MRS. MARY NOBLE, 30 YEARS RESIDENT OF BRAINERD DIES

SERVICES AT METHODIST CHURCH TOMORROW; LEAVES DAUGHTER HERE

Death came to Mrs. Mary Noble last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mark Cochran, 919 13th St. S. E. She was one of the old residents of Brainerd, having come here 30 years ago from Canada. She had been a member of the Methodist church, also Royal Neighbors, and was nearly 71 at the time of her death.

Mrs. Noble's husband died five years ago. He was in the paint and paper business in Brainerd at that time.

Mrs. Noble is survived by two brothers, living in Canada; also one daughter, Mrs. Mark Cochran, and two grandchildren, Orman and Billy Cochran.

The funeral will take place in the Methodist church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. F. A. Kufus officiating. The remains may be viewed from 1 o'clock until the time of the funeral.

SUCCESS IN MAKING MAYONNAISE LIES IN WAY OIL IS ADDED

"A Little at a Time" is Safest Method. Hills Bros. Use a Similar Rule in Their Patented, Coffee-Roasting Process.

Oil, in large amounts, added to mayonnaise ingredients usually makes the mixture separate. It is better to add oil "a little at a time."

There is a similar situation in coffee roasting. Occasionally, big batches can be roasted so each has the same flavor. But you can't depend on it. The sure way is to roast a little at a time. Hills Bros. do, with their patented, Controlled Roasting process.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time. The temperature is exactly regulated while the blend flows through the roasters. Every single berry is perfectly roasted. Naturally, then, every pound has the perfect flavor!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans that keep it fresh! Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

CAR HITS, DRAGS FARMER YOUTH 20 FEET ON OAK ST.

VERNON BERG SUFFERS FRACTURED THIGH, POSSIBLE SKULL INJURY

X-Ray examination was being made today to determine possible skull fracture in the case of Vernon Berg, 21, Brainerd Route 1, knocked down and dragged 20 feet by a car as he walked across Oak street between 16th and 17th streets at 9 p. m. Sunday.

Berg was given strong hope for recovery, his doctor reporting that his condition was favorable. He suffered a fractured thigh and body bruises.

The youth, weighing about 170 pounds, was knocked unconscious and rushed to the St. Joseph's hospital by the Whitney's ambulance.

Driver Notifies Police
R. K. Murray, railway conductor, Proctor, driver of the car, reported the accident immediately after to Chief of Police Thomas Templeton and said that he could be reached at any time at Proctor and would return to Brainerd if he was requested to. Such an understanding permitted Murray to leave for his home.

The driver told police that Berg appeared to him as jumping in front of his vehicle. Murray was driving a Packard sedan travelling east. He was alone. A front headlight and the bumper of the machine were broken and the fender bent from the impact.

Two Brainerd men, C. E. Partlow and Arnold Niemi assisted Murray in picking up the unconscious man from the street.

SUCCESS IN MAKING MAYONNAISE LIES IN WAY OIL IS ADDED

"A Little at a Time" is Safest Method. Hills Bros. Use a Similar Rule in Their Patented, Coffee-Roasting Process.

Oil, in large amounts, added to mayonnaise ingredients usually makes the mixture separate. It is better to add oil "a little at a time."

There is a similar situation in coffee roasting. Occasionally, big batches can be roasted so each has the same flavor. But you can't depend on it. The sure way is to roast a little at a time. Hills Bros. do, with their patented, Controlled Roasting process.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time. The temperature is exactly regulated while the blend flows through the roasters. Every single berry is perfectly roasted. Naturally, then, every pound has the perfect flavor!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans that keep it fresh! Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

CROW WING COUNTY 4-H MEMBERS ENTER ANIMALS IN SHOW

JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SHOW IN ST. PAUL TO FIND BRAINERD COMMUNITY REPRESENTED

Four days of contests, entertainment, and educational features are scheduled in the program of the fourteenth annual Minnesota Junior Livestock Show, South St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 2-5, according to the completed program announced by T. A. Erickson, state leader of 4-H club work, extension division, Department of Agriculture, University of Minnesota.

Except for the educational and entertainment features, the show, which will be larger this year than ever before, will be just one contest after another, including the great contest in placing the calves, hogs, sheep and poultry, and will close with the auction sale on Thursday, which will be a contest among businessmen for possession of the stock exhibited by the 4-H club members. The judging of the entries will continue through Tuesday and Wednesday. In addition, there will be several special contests. These will include: A new contest in meat identification, which will be participated in by one girl and one boy from each county and will take place at 2:30 p. m. Monday, November 2, at the Armour and Swift packing plants; a showmanship contest, which will take place at 3 p. m. Tuesday, when baby beef exhibitors will compete, and at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday, when swine and sheep club exhibitors will compete; and a poultry judging contest at 9 a. m. Wednesday.

In the poultry judging contest, the three winners will be awarded free trips to the national contest in Chicago in connection with the International Livestock Show.

The entries include:
Baby beef calves, 345.
Individual lambs, 219.
Pens of 3 lambs, 26.
Hogs, 156.
Marketing poultry, 84.
Breeding poultry, 75.
A special feature of interest to livestock breeders will be a luncheon given for Minnesota breeders at noon, Wednesday, by the Kifanis club in the American Legion Memorial Library at South St. Paul. The speaker will be H. G. Zavoral, livestock specialist of the extension division, University Farm, who recently returned from a year in Russia.

A list of 4-H club members from Crow Wing county who have entered their animals for the show follows:
John Adeock, Crosby.
Jack Spornitz, Jenkins.
Everett Racine, Brainerd, Rt. 1.
Earl Bedore, Brainerd, Rt. 5.
Virginia Cook, Brainerd, Rt. 2.
Edward Cook, Brainerd, Rt. 2.

Swedens' Large Insect Exhibit
Stockholm (AP)—Stockholm has more Oriental insects than any other city in the world—but they are all dead and preserved in the Museum of Natural History. BRAINERD'S INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS--

What has Brainerd to offer in the way of inducements for industrial projects? What has Brainerd done, both as an organization and her citizens as individuals, to obtain industries? What industries does Brainerd have?

Those are only a few of the salient questions that present themselves whenever industrial projects are being considered. The questions are commonplace and perhaps are the first to occur to anyone who gives a thought to the proposition. But, an analysis of their scope reveals that they are perhaps the most important in the development of an industrial bureau.

An industrial bureau, one that would be completely organized and operated as a unit made up of men who are able and eager to do more for the development of Brainerd, is a necessity, The Daily Dispatch believes.

Of course, the chance of obtaining a manufacturing plant of any kind at the present time is not bright in view of present business conditions. However remote the prospects appear that is no reason why considerable thought should not be put to the proposition. Brainerd should be prepared to meet the break in the business depression and should make a bid for the light manufacturing concerns that are certain to spring up following the lull.

With larger industries centering their operations on the borders of larger cities or in their environs, The Daily Dispatch believes that the field for pioneering effort lies in the light manufacturing line. A resume of these will prove that they are just as good for a city as the larger industries.

Of course, both have their merits but the probability of obtaining one and the other calls for a wide divergence of opinion. But, that is not the case and Brainerd should be alert to grasp any opportunity in either line that even remotely appears a possibility.

Located geographically in the heart of Minnesota and strategically between the Northwest and other points of the country, Brainerd has something more to offer than the average city. Therefore, capitalize on these facts and organize them into literature that will demand attention from anyone that appears interested in the shifting of his industrial ambitions.

U. OF M. PREXY'S STATUS--

Denial of the rumor that Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, plans to quit has been made. This time by Fred B. Snyder, chairman of the board of regents.

How the rumor got started was beyond Mr. Snyder but it had become widely circulated before the board of regents decided to spike it by saying that the report, apparently, had arisen from the fact that Dr. Coffman is away on a six-months' leave of absence. This period he is spending in Australia in research work for an educational foundation.

Dissatisfaction over Coffman's regime at the helm of the state university exists. This is obvious in view of the latest rumor.

The Daily Dispatch calls attention to the denial in view of the fact that the University of Minnesota, one of the largest in the country and no doubt one of the best equipped and organized, should be able to demand an administration of harmony which, after all, is imperative in view of the purpose and responsibility shouldered on the institution. It is evident that wherever there is dissatisfaction the best results are not obtainable.

SCHOOL BRASS BANDS--

To anyone who wanders about the country in the fall of the year, dropping in here and there on football games, one of the most notable features of American civilization today must seem to be the development of the brass band.

Of course, there have always been bands. But did they ever flourish as they do today? From the smallest country high school to the biggest university there are bands—big ones and little ones, good ones and bad ones, some of them gay in bright uniforms and some of them dressed just any old way, all tooting their lungs out, every Saturday afternoon from September to mid-November.

And these bands, for some reason, don't get the attention they deserve. For they represent, even more than the game of football itself, the spirit of youth—the spirit that flames on a thousand athletic fields from one end of the country to another, the spirit that packs the stands and brings forth thunderous cheers and makes young faces bright with the light of excited anticipation.

Who can watch these high school and college bands without being profoundly moved? They stand for something more than just a loud and pleasing noise. Expectant youth, eternally eager, keeps step with them. It will follow the drum beat and the bugle call across a football field, or—if we adults wish it—it will follow them to the ends of the earth, and die on distant battle fields, and waste itself with a glad prodigality; for youth asks for nothing except a cause that it can grow enthusiastic over, and the blaring bands of the football fields express this up-surging spirit as nothing else in all American life can hope to express it.

And then, too, there is the note of melancholy that these bands always provide when they settle themselves to play the "alma mater." This tune, as often as not, is quite uninspiring; but it hangs pleasantly on the autumn air, with silver cornet notes drifting across the hazy field, and it plaintively reminds the adult listener that youth is splendid, romantic and tragically brief. And the shrill trumpets awaken echoes, for those of us whose youth is quite gone, and we get, surprisingly enough, a little moment in which old hopes and dead dreams are revived.

It is always interesting to read about the fads and hobbies of great men; and it is pleasant, somehow, to learn that Dr. Dayton C. Miller, the physicist who is world famous for his studies of ether drift, makes a hobby of collecting flutes.

Dr. Miller recently returned from Europe. He did this and that while in Europe, and talked with various famous people; but what seemed to please him most was the fact that he had been able to secure 54 new flutes for his collection, including two rare ones made of glass.

Now if an ordinary mortal should take to buying glass flutes on that scale his neighbors would wag their heads sadly and look meaningfully at the booby hatch. But great scientists are entitled to their foibles; and this collection of flutes by a man who ranks not far below Einstein adds a likable human touch to his portrait.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Rich old MRS. JUPITER is robbed and murdered during the engagement party she gives for her secretary, MARY HARKNESS. Mary's scapegrace brother, ED- DIE, is supposed to have been up- stairs at the murder hour. Only Mary knows this.

Mary's fiancé, DIRK RUTHER, advises her to keep still about having arranged to admit Eddie secretly until he can locate the boy. Mary presents a maid from telling BOWEN of the star about the unknown visitor. Dirk tele- phones that he has had a call from Eddie and will take Mary to see him that afternoon.

Dirk oversleeps, and Bowen drives Mary to the rendezvous. Eddie is killed by a car as he crosses the street. He mumbles about a fly before he dies. Weeks pass, and INSPECTOR KANE drops the case, believing Eddie the murderer. When Mary protests, Kane tells her both MRS. JUPITER and Dirk believe the same.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI

BEFORE the disclosure that not only Inspector Kane, but old Mr. Jupiter himself, and even Dirk, believed her brother had robbed and murdered Mrs. Jupiter, Mary sat stunned.

"Even if that were true, as you say," she got out presently, "there still remains the question—who killed Eddie?"

Kane lifted exasperated eyebrows. "But you saw the car that killed him!" he said, as if dealing with an unreasonable child. "Just another of those hit-and-run drivers. It's murder, of course. But nine out of 10 of them aren't caught. It's too bad. But if you look at it another way, it's mercy."

"You can sit there and say that!" Amazement and desperation made her bold.

"But what do you want the matter stirred up for?" Kane was getting wrought up. "You ought to be glad it's finished. Your brother's better off where he is than if he'd lived, to take the rap. You'd rather see him killed accidentally than live to go to the electric chair, wouldn't you. Believe me, he's lucky."

"Electric chair?" The gray eyes blazed scorn at him. "You don't mean that. And Eddie wasn't killed accidentally. You know better than that, too. You can get eye-witness testimony of a dozen people—"

"Eye-witness testimony isn't worth a damn," said Inspector Kane with finality. "People don't know what they see. If one says it, they all say it. They want to get in on the excitement, that's all."

"But Mr. Bowen and I both saw We're not just—people."

Kane laid a pencil down with a decisive rap.

"You're 'hypped' on the idea that somebody was after that brother of yours. And George Bowen is a reporter for a sensational newspaper. He'd see anything that would give him a big story."

Mary shook her head. She was not much older herself than the "baby brother" she was finding excuses for, but she had grown up swiftly in these recent weeks.

New dignity sat on the girl's slim shoulders as she faced the police inspector and her voice was calm and determined.

"No, you're wrong. You can't dismiss us as lightly as that. I may be an imaginative woman, and a relative, but Mr. Bowen is neither. And he seems to be the only person besides myself who cares what happened to Eddie. Even Dirk, my fiancé," she stumbled on the loved name, "has changed lately. He doesn't want to talk about the case. I don't know why, unless—"

But she decided to keep her personal affairs to herself. She drew up sharply.

"Say," Bowen exclaimed, "I've been looking everywhere for you!"

"I do know that Eddie was killed, deliberately. Mightn't it have been the other fellow, the one he owed money to? Why hasn't anyone found him? He's the one who's really to blame!"

"What do you know about the other fellow?" Kane asked suspiciously. "The same as you do. That if Eddie did it—and I don't believe it for a minute—he was made to do it by the man he owed money to."

KANE smiled tolerantly. "I wouldn't say that, Miss Harkness. That's only a theory. You've nothing to back it up."

"Haven't I? Then I'll find something. I'm going to prove that Eddie had no part in that crime if it's the last thing I ever do." Her small fist beat the table by way of emphasis.

Kane pursed his lips. "As you please, Miss Harkness," he said, "but I think you're making a big mistake. You're a very lucky girl." Mary moved impatiently, but he fixed her with an earnest eye and continued. "You're no relation to the Jupiters, are you?" he asked abruptly.

"Why no," Mary replied in surprise.

Kane nodded his head sagely. "Well, for an outsider, you're sitting in the lap of Luck, if you only knew it. Those two old people set great store by you, and I understand one of the last acts of that old lady's life was to ask her lawyer draw up adoption papers for you."

The storm of resentment that had racked Mary during Kane's revelations had left her more calmly purposeful than she had ever been in her life.

"Thank you for all you have

MARY said, "You're funny. What're you doing it for—to cheer me up?"

"You did look kinda dithery. Don't know what dithery is? Well, no matter. Bigger things on foot." Turning serious abruptly, he lowered his voice discreetly. "Listen. Remember when your brother was hurt, his talking about a fly?"

Mary nodded. "Well, it kinda stuck in my mind. Thinks I, I'll hie myself out to the race-track some sunny afternoon and nose around. You know what? There's a race-track gambler hanging around Jamaica that everybody calls 'The Fly.'"

"Do you suppose it could be—?" He threw out his hands and shrugged. "I haven't found anybody yet that's seen him with your brother. But they all know Eddie down there. Sooner or later I'll find out what the tie-up was. Any how, it's a tip."

"Did you see him?" "No, and that's a funny thing. Nobody's seen him for a couple of weeks."

Mary calculated rapidly. "It was—two weeks ago tomorrow night—"

Bowen nodded. "Correct." Excitement kindled flames in the girl's cheeks and brought stars to her eyes.

"Oh, if it should be—?" She grasped both his hands with her own and gave them a glad squeeze. "If you help me to clear up all this—trouble, I'll—I'll—I don't know what I'll do!"

"Hold it, hold it!" chided the other. "I've got a weak heart. Besides, we haven't got to first base yet in the matter of evidence."

"But we will! Oh, I know all along there was something back of this." Her face clouded again at the recollection of her recent interview with Kane. "Maybe he'll do something about it now!"

Bowen observed her bitterness, and guessed its cause.

"Listen," he told her sternly. "All I ask is—don't say a word about this to Kane."

Curiosity prompted her to ask his reason.

"Well, more than one reason." They drew back while the murderous-looking waiter served their food—huge plates heaped with steaming spaghetti and meat balls. Bowen jerked a thumb after the waiter's retreating back. "Two years out of Sing Sing—him. He's got to stay where the police can keep an eye on him or go back to stir. Good guy. He wouldn't cut your throat for less than a dime."

As Mary surveyed her plate distrustfully, he added "Go ahead. Eat your lunch. Poison's not his line. But as I was saying, if we find the guy that killed your brother, I want the story—I don't want the other papers to get it. And another reason is, if the Fly is the man I think he is, it'll take more than Pretty Jim Kane to bring him in."

4-H Club Leaders Review History of County Units

Summarized reports, written by the leaders, of what the following 4-H clubs have done during the year is as follows:

The Pequot 4-H club was organized on February 6, and at that time about 28 members enrolled, which number later grew to 40. Mrs. Carl Headlee and Mrs. Anton Lund were chosen as leaders. Twenty-two or more of the girls enrolled in sewing, which made a large class of which Mrs. Bye and Mrs. Carl Headlee were leaders. Mrs. Anton Lund was leader of the baking class, both bread and cake. Lois Lund took up bread demonstration, and Faye Glasmann and Lois were awarded trips to the Junior Short Course at the University Farm last June. Not many of the members dropped out, and most every one drew a prize on something or another at the Crow Wing county fair at Pequot.

The kittenball team did not organize this year, but hope to do so next year. The Pequot 4-H club has stirred up much more interest and many parents begin to realize how much it helps the children and teaches them to do things in the home that otherwise they may take no interest in.

In all of the homes visited, the parents were willing to help and wanted their children to keep on with club work. The treasure was empty when the club organized, but they now have $14.50-$7.00 which was taken in at a program and ice cream social, and another $7.50 at the county fair for their sewing booth.

(By Mrs. Anton Lund of the Pequot 4-H club.)

Oak Lawn Boosters 4-H club. — In 1929 and 1930 Oak Lawn had two 4-H clubs, but in 1931 the two clubs were joined as one, and Mrs. Dan Peterson was chosen as leader. This worked out very well, even though the members are scattered from Riverton to the Brainerd city limits, and one member lives in Nokay Lake.

Fifteen meetings were held, several of them being demonstration meetings. One club tour and one club picnic was held, at which there was an attendance of about 68. The members exhibited at the Ironton fair on August 15, and at the county fair at Pequot on August 17-19.

Won 3rd prize on their stunt at Ironton, $3.00.

Won 3rd prize on their stunt at Pequot, $5.00.

Won 3rd prize on their booth at Pequot, $5.00.

Elmer McCulloch was awarded a trip to the Junior Short Course at University Farm in June. Hortense McKay was selected as county clothing champion, and was awarded a trip to the state fair. She also received a silver medal for winning first in the style revue which was held at the county fair. The 3rd year clothing team from Oak Lawn won first prize at Brainerd on Achievement Day, July 20, and were awarded a trip to the district contest, which was held at Little Falls on July 24. They also won first prize at the county fair. The 2nd year demonstration team and the cake baking individual also won prizes at Achievement Day, July 20.

Four of the members dropped out, and three of the boys could not exhibit their calves due to excess work at home.

Mrs. Peterson says: "While we may not be in the running for the silver cup, yet, we feel that we have improved our work, and are planning for even a better year next year. We enjoyed working with Miss Anderson, county club agent, very much, and hope she will be with us next year."

(By Mrs. Dan Peterson, club leader, Oak Lawn Boosters 4-H club.)

The Beaver Dam 4-H club was reorganized on January 23, 1931. Eight members were enrolled, taking as their projects: Daily calf, gardening, first year sewing, first year baking, and sheep. All the members worked faithfully and finished their projects.

Elmer Holmes won second prize at the Ironton fair with his calf, and grand champion at the Pequot fair. He was also awarded a trip to the state fair with his calf. The Beaver Dam club is very proud of Elmer. Several other members also won prizes.

Mrs. Skillings quotes the following: "I think the 4-H club creates a more friendly feeling in the neighborhood, and we get together at the meetings and programs, at which time we can visit with each other more often. We intend to continue our 4-H club again next year, perhaps more successfully."

(By Mrs. C. C. Skillings, local leader of the Beaver Dam 4-H club.)

Letters to the Editor

Believes Merchants Should Buy Produce at Home

To the Editor of Brainerd Dispatch: "Buy Minnesota flour" is a good idea but most of the farmers have no choice. They must buy the flour when they can afford. Take a can of cream to town, say once a week and at the present price to buy groceries, clothing, and pay for other necessities, how far does it go. Take anything else except eggs and you'll get these answers: "No, we buy all our meat from Swift and Co." or "No! No! the father of the man who runs this store owns a large farm and we buy all our squash from him" or "you'll just have to take those tomatoes back. No, we just couldn't use any tomatoes" or "we're getting all our carrots from Florida now" or "what could I do with a dressed hog?" as one butcher said.

There are people circulating stories possibly to reduce the price of potatoes and these stories are not always true—one that farmers are selling their potatoes at 4c a bushel, another that someone sold at 10c a bushel, another that a certain man sold them at 25c per bushel.

Some people who can afford to pay a decent price for their vegetables still want to banter the farmer down to the last cent. How many city people would care to buy land, clear it up, pay taxes on it and buy machinery and then raise potatoes at even 25c per bushel?

So when the farmer is treated in this way by city people who can blame him for buying "Farmdale Flour."

Farmers are canning and curing more vegetables and meats every year and they will soon need to go back to the spinning wheel and loom.

A FARMER.

The Salvation Army

Before launching an appeal to enable the Army work to be carried on for another year, I should like to explain our position to the public.

Not intentionally, but yet in a very real sense, the Special Relief Drive last December worked an injustice to the Salvation Army.

For years the public has recognized the work the Army was doing amongst a certain class of people, Christmas baskets, sick visitation and relief, emergency cases. The Army officers were appealed to by ministers, city officials, and others, supported by these folks and the public. The officers at great personal sacrifice went on with their missionary labor of love.

The Brainerd Community Relief Drive last year secured the cash, but no provision financially was made for the Army; yet they have assisted the relief question through the winter, and when the city relief were shut down, applicants were directed to the Salvation Army. They have been coming right along. An effort on the part of the Army to raise funds for its work after the city drive produced $300.00. Many people imagined the Army was being helped from the fund.

Coming to Brainerd late in August to put on a drive for maintenance I contacted many leading officials, ministers, and business men, without exception they expressed their appreciation of work Captain and Mrs. Thomas was doing, and were willing to assist the Army.

However, the question was raised by several, "Why don't you unite with the city, thus making one appeal instead of two?" it was urged that the committee had to employ a special worker to investigate and administer relief. Why not the trained workers of the Army work under the supervision of Miss Eula Michael? The city would be thus securing 12 months service in relief work.

It is well known that the Army is impartial and assists irrespective of creed.

In deference to these requests we withdrew the drive for funds, met the relief committee, and placed the suggestions before them. They felt it would be better for the Army to put on a separate drive for their funds before the Relief Fund drive.

The total asked for salary, use of buildings, and maintenance, use and upkeep of car was $800 for the year.

Owing to special need of living quarters being fixed, $100 was required, and at suggestion of someone who felt it would be better, $100 in improving the condition of hall; making a total of $1,000 for full time services in the interests of the city poor for 12 months.

Will you please help the Army in this special appeal?

Sydney F. Austin, envoy, assisting Captain and Mrs. Thomas.

MOVE TO PROTECT U. S. GOLD

To Create New Commission

Laval and President Hoover agreed that further relief was necessary during the period of the depression. It was agreed, however, that Germany must take the initiative under the Young reparations plan by asking for appointment of an allied commission to investigate her situation. Officials here expect such a move soon.

When the allies have granted relief, President Hoover will ask congress to create a new debt commission to consider reduction of war debts.

It was also agreed that measures would be taken to check heavy French withdrawals of gold from the United States. France is expected immediately as one step, to use $25,000,000 in gold which she is holding in the New York Federal Reserve bank to invest in acceptances in the American market. This drain of gold, described in some quarters as a "drive on the dollar," has in no way actually endangered American money reserves. But it has caused a panicky feeling all over Europe that the United States was about to be forced off the gold standard just as Britain was recently forced off the pound by a foreign run on the Bank of England. Fear that this feeling would spread here has caused some uneasiness despite the unquestioned strength of American gold reserves. President Hoover and Premier Laval agreed in a joint communique that maintenance of the gold standard in France and the United States would be a major influence in restoring normal economic life.

No Disarmament Progress

These were the two major developments in the Hoover-Laval conversations. Practically no progress was made on disarmament. It was discussed at length. Laval gave no ground. He brought up his security plan though he had been forewarned by Senator Borah that it had no chance. He did not therefore ask the United States to approve it but merely laid his view before this government.

He outlined France's need for defense. This discussion ended with the United States and France far apart. Difficulties confronting the Geneva conference next February remain as before.

Premier Laval was told the United States believes France as the leading continental controversies in Europe which are standing in the way of disarmament, and economic recovery.

Ask Observance of Navy Day, Tomorrow

Mayor Harry Greger today issued the following statement in the form of a proclamation for Navy Day observance here:

"In accordance with the practice which has prevailed throughout the nation the past ten years, Brainerd is asked to lend its aid and support to the observance of Navy Day which falls on Theodore Roosevelt's birthday, Oct. 27. The citizens of this city are requested to give thought to the history and needs of the navy.

"The day is so nationally of a patriotic nature that a generous display of the flag and an enthusiastic participation in programs would be timely. Schools and civic, social and patriotic societies can lend great impetus toward a successful serving of the purposes of Navy Day.

"Your cooperation in this worthy activity will be sincerely appreciated."

Twin City Railway Asks Relief from Tax Burden

St. Paul, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Immediate relief from its present tax burden, must be afforded the Twin City Rapid Transit Co., to prevent its collapse, attorneys for the company told the Minnesota Tax commission today. The attorneys presented final arguments in the company's request for a $5,076,705 reduction in personal property tax violations.

GOPHERS' WIN OVER IOWA STRENGTHENS BIG TEN TITLE HOPES

SHARES TOP BERTH WITH WILDCATS AND WISCONSIN 11

INDIANA IS ALSO UNBEATEN BUT RECORD IS MARKED BY TIE WITH IOWA

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Northwestern, Minnesota and Wisconsin are the undefeated leaders of the Big Ten football race, but Dick Hanley's eleven which shared the title with Michigan a year ago is a top-heavy favorite to win the honor single-handed this season.

Indiana also is unbeaten in the Big Ten but the Hoosiers have a scoreless tie with Iowa to mar their record.

Northwestern defeated Ohio State, conqueror of Michigan the week previous, on a 50-yard run to Pug Renter and a 33-yard drop kick by Oille Olson, 10-0.

Minnesota won its opening Big Ten game by overwhelming Iowa, 34-0, and will make its bid for titular recognition by meeting Wisconsin, which toppled Purdue a week ago, at Minneapolis Saturday.

Wisconsin, playing in the east for the first time since 1899, failed to arouse any Big Ten title hopes among Badger supporters by taking a 27-13 licking at the hands of Pennsylvania.

There is a strong possibility that the Big Ten race will be all over but the shouting and the title will be safely in Northwestern two weeks hence. If Minnesota downs Wisconsin Saturday, Northwestern can virtually clinch the title by beating the Gophers the following week at Evanston.

Northwestern plays Illinois at Evanston this week and will be a top-heavy favorite to down the Illini and then take Minnesota into camp. The Minnesota game, however, promises to be the hardest left on Northwestern's schedule inasmuch as the Wildcats wind up their season against Indiana and Iowa, ranked with Chicago as the conference's weakest teams.

Two inter-sectional games are on this week's program, Michigan invading the east to meet Princeton and George Washington coming west to meet Iowa, which hasn't scored a point in four games.

Outside of the Minnesota-Wisconsin game, the conference schedule does not promise much in the way of competition. Northwestern, Ohio State, and Purdue are highly favored over Illinois, Indiana, and Chicago, respectively.

Staples Wins by 7-0 Over Detroit Lakes

It was Staples' game Friday afternoon when the Staples high school football team came out of the annual clash with Detroit Lakes holding the heavy end of a 7-0 score. Detroit Lakes made a fine showing and displayed considerable pep, even bringing a fifty piece high school band down to Staples for the game.

Staples made two fumbles in the first quarter, which might have proven costly. As it was they merely resulted in Detroit Lakes getting the ball and holding it in the center of the field for a longer period. Finally in this quarter Staples made a drive and forced the ball over the line for the first touchdown and carried the ball over for the additional point. Then it was everybody's game, with Staples keeping the ball out of her territory and her goal line safe. The nearest Detroit Lakes came to scoring was in the fourth quarter when she drove the ball down to the Staples 15 yard line. Here Staples held for the fourth down and with some line drives, with Walker going through for 22 yards, soon had the ball back in the center of the field where it remained when the final gun closed the game.

One odd play was pulled off. Detroit Lakes was apparently calling for a forward pass. The man dropped back to make the throw, but Staples had the other men of Detroit Lakes so well guarded that there was no one to receive the ball. Both teams stood as one man, waiting for something to be done, when the whistle was blown and nothing had been done.

Four forward passes were attempted on either side, one netting the Detroit Lakes team about 20 yards, while Staples made about the same yardage with forward passes. It was straight football from start to finish. It was a game free from any roughness, there only being two penalties imposed and those for off side.

JONES SEES NO REASON WHY GOPHERS CANNOT TRIM WISCONSIN SATURDAY

By PAUL M. JONES

Regardless of the brilliant schedule in the Big Ten last Saturday for inter-sectional games and regular schedule there were no upsets in the final scores. Wisconsin and Ohio State had chances of glorifying their college colors on foreign and home fields respectively, but neither were able to change the forecasted result. The critic's eye turned to Minneapolis to watch the result of the Minnesota-Iowa game and the Gophers came through stronger than predicted. So in their remaining games this will demand respect.

Wisconsin played its second inter-sectional game in the East with Pennsylvania, and lost 27-13. Their last trip East in '30 against Yale was also a setback, 6-0, but because of their brilliant upset the week before over the powerful Purdue team were given a slight chance to win. The Penn boys settled the affair early in such large proportions that the Badger rally failed to offset the early lead.

Purdue upheld the Big Ten in the other inter-sectional trip to the East by defeating the fair Carnegie Tech team, 13-6, under adverse weather conditions. Of the three games played in the East Purdue won 2 in the past five years, being Harvard in '27, 19-0 and losing to the Navy in '26, 13-17.

Indiana defeated the weak Chicago team on the latter's field 32-6 for the first victory over the Maroons since 1910. Chicago no doubt showed the effects of its hard game the previous week with Yale. It was Indiana's third conference victory, the past three years, defeating Northwestern 19-14 in '29 and Purdue 7-6 in '30.

Michigan had no double in rallying from its setback the previous week by Ohio State 20-7, and triumphed over the weak and uncertain Illinois team at Urbana, 35-0. Michigan is always tough but once defeated is still tougher and yet will be an obstacle for the remaining opponents to hurdle.

Northwestern protected its claim to the Big Ten title for the second consecutive year by triumphing over Ohio State, 10-0, in a listless game at Columbus. Northwestern no doubt showed the effects of its hard schedule to date, having met such tough opponents as Nebraska and Notre Dame, enough to take the "it" out of any squad. Their only challenge now in their remaining games is with the Gophers at Evanston in November.

Under ideal weather conditions the Gophers met and defeated the Iowans in the stadium at Minneapolis Saturday by the one-sided score of 34-0. It was the second Big Ten victory in two years under Coach Crisler, defeating Indiana last year, 6-0. Regardless of what had been written about the Minnesota team I still had confidence, if properly handled, the material was there to work out a formidable team to represent the Gophers. To me the biggest handicap to the Gophers is the lack of a good quarterback, but the team seems to rally to extended heights when MacDougall is inserted into the lineup. At times the Gophers showed everything, then again they seemed to sink back but rally again and move about as champions. There is no reason at this stage of the season why the Minnesota team shouldn't show an offensive punch all the time as they proved at times Saturday, but their interference and go at critical times seems to fail them. Why hasn't the coaching staff shown MacDougall how to maneuver himself in the tight places of his open-field run? He invariably hesitates and misses many long gains by hesitating in outstepping the last man. The Iowa team at no time threatened the Gophers by their tricks and seemed to become discouraged at every Gopher thrust against them or at them. The only criticism I could make in Coach Ingerson's plan of attack was his failure to figure in his offensive drive the work of Referee Magidsohn, as he made more yardage for Iowa than all the Iowa backs. I was not surprised at his work for in all his Gopher games he has been partial to the opponent. Things went on by the Iowa boys that should have been called but only the Gophers. He also took back

GREEN BAY PACKERS TAKE SEVENTH TO LEAD PRO GRID PACK

DEFEAT PROVIDENCE AND CONTINUE TO MAINTAIN UNDEFEATED RECORD

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(UP)—The Green Bay Packers won their seventh straight victory by defeating the Providence Steam Rollers at Green Bay Sunday, 48-20, and continued to maintain their undefeated record in the National Professional Football League.

The Portsmouth Spartans kept pace with the Packers by winning from Stapleton, 20-7.

In the other games Sunday the Philadelphia Yellow Jackets won from Chicago 13-12, the New York Giants beat Brooklyn 27-0, and the Chicago Cardinals trimmed Rock Island in a non-league game, 45-13.

AITKIN DEFEATS RANGERS, 18 TO 0

AITKIN SCORES TOUCHDOWNS IN SECOND AND THIRD QUARTERS

Aitkin further demonstrated its football strength Saturday by defeating Crosby-Ironton 18 to 0 at the Rangers camping grounds.

In the first quarter, each team fought hard but no points were made. The second quarter started off with a bang, Aitkin taking the ball around the end and scoring a touchdown. Later they intercepted a C-I. pass and went for a big gain and with two more downs, scored another touchdown, making the score 12 to 0.

In the third quarter Aitkin again scored a touchdown through line plunges and end runs. Aitkin showed more spirit throughout the game than C-I. did.

The fourth quarter was the same as the first, neither side scoring. Aitkin showed clever plays throughout the whole game and intercepted many of C-I. passes.

"OLD ROMAN" TAKEN EARLY TODAY AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

DEATH BRINGS END TO EFFORT TO BUILD ANOTHER WINNING SOUTH SIDE TEAM

Eagle River, Wis., Oct. 26.—(UP)—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, died today at his 600-acre Sand Lake estate near here.

The "old Roman," as he was affectionately known to all the world of organized baseball, succumbed at 1:25 a. m. to a long illness which many of his friends declared had its real beginning back in 1919 over the famous "Black Sox" scandals.

His son, J. Louis Comiskey, was with him when he died.

He was 72 years old. Comiskey's career in the baseball world was without parallel, but he died without realizing his one greatest ambition—to build up another great White Sox team from the wreckage of the championship club which broke his heart and almost broke up baseball itself for a time back in 1919.

He was connected with baseball from his youth to his death and was the only player to come up from the ranks to sole ownership of a major league ball club.

He managed the old St. Louis Browns of the American association when they won the world's baseball championship by defeating the Chicago "White Sox" of the national league in 1886.

Twenty years later he was sole owner of the Chicago White Sox of the American league when they won the world's title by defeating the Chicago Cubs in the famous series of 1906. No other man ever held this double distinction.

In the winter of 1913-14 the White Sox and New York Giants toured the world, playing in London before King George, in Egypt before the Sphinx, in Japan, Australia and other places.

In making the trip Comiskey assumed obligations of approximately $30,000 for the expenses of his players. It was on this trip that he became ill and during the last few years his health would not permit him to attend the White Sox games.

He married Miss Nan Kelly of Dubuque, Ia., in 1881, and two children were born. One of them died. The other, J. Louis Comiskey, is treasurer of the White Sox. Mrs. Comiskey died in 1922.

Cadet Injured in Yale Game Fights for Life

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 26.—(UP)—Cadet Richard B. Sheridan fought for life in an artificial lung today while his mother raced to his bedside from Georgia.

Cadet Sheridan was reported "steadily weakening" today. The cadet's neck was broken Saturday in a football game between the Army of West Point and Yale of New Haven. Only a "miracle" it was believed, could save his life. The last rites of the Roman Catholic church have been administered.

Some of America's great nerve specialists, in New Haven for a conference, treated the injured Army right end. They announced the nerve which controls his lungs had been paralyzed. They gave him only a "sporting chance" to live until his mother arrives from Augusta, Ga., about 1 o'clock today.

Even if Sheridan lives beyond that hour, the physicians agreed, he will remain paralyzed.

Two fractured and dislocated vertebrae in Sheridan's neck were adjusted by Dr. Harvey Cushing of Boston, famous brain and nerve specialist; Dr. Ernest Sykes of St. Louis, and Dr. Samuel Clark of New Haven.

The three performed an emergency operation on the football player soon after he was carried from the Yale bowl Saturday, limp and apparently lifeless, his heart beat barely noticeable, and with none of the 70,000 spectators realizing the seriousness of the accident.

Sheridan's neck had been twisted as he attempted to tackle Lassiter of Yale early in the fourth period of the game which resulted in a tie, 6 to 6.

Three State College Teams Remain Unbeaten

St. Paul, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Three state college conference football teams remain unbeaten today after St. Olaf college of Northfield, an outstanding favorite, succumbed to St. John's of Collegeville in one of the biggest upsets in conference history.

The speedy St. John's backs and hard tackling forward wall left the Olaf dumbfounded and never able to start an attack of their own. The score was 13 to 0. Luckmeyer scored both of St. John's touchdowns.

It was the first defeat for St. Olaf in 10 conference starts and practically marked elimination from the 1931 championship race. The other two undefeated teams besides St. John's are St. Thomas and Concordia.

St. Thomas made hard work of a 7 to 0 victory over Macalester college Friday night. And will go into its game with St. John's on the short end for the first time in years.

Tufts College Students Taken After Initiation

Concord, Mass., Oct. 26.—(UP)—A fraternity initiation stunt climaxed today in the arrest of 18 Tufts College students.

The youths, charged with malicious mischief and disturbing the peace, pleaded not guilty in district court and were released on their own recognizance pending a hearing Tuesday.

State police made the arrests after residents complained the students were cheering and singing in the early morning hours while parading along the Acton-Boxboro road.

STAPLES RESIDENTS GET GOLF BUG; NEW COURSE IS POPULAR

GAME ASSURED PLACE IN SPORT OF TOWN; EXTENSIONS CONTEMPLATED

One of the most successful seasons in its history is the record made this year at the Terrace Golf Course, at Staples, with Claire Hurd at the helm. Golfing is relatively new at Staples but it has already won the enthusiastic support of a number of the residents of the city, and it is a cold or rainy day when the golf course is not visited by at least a score of folks. Railroad men, just in from the run, doff their overalls, wash their faces, eat their meal and are off for a round of golf, most of them making the nine holes before they return home, and some going twice around for the eighteen holes.

Business and professional men, who formerly spent their spare time fishing, are now golfing, and the women are as badly bitten by the bug as the men.

Staples has had representatives in every tournament staged in this district this season, scores going to Wadena, Detroit Lakes and Park Rapids to compete with golfers from those towns.

The site of the Terrace Golf course about four miles north from Staples, and is in a bend of the Crow Wing river. The land was formerly heavily wooded; the buildings of the club are located on the height of ground overlooking the river. Here steps have been made leading down to the water, dressing rooms have been built, and not only can one get the sport of a game of golf, but they also can have the best bathing in this section of the river.

Only nine holes have been made ready for use up to the present time, but eventually more may be added. The new greens are being kept in fine condition, with Mr. Reichelderfer in charge. While the course is neither large or old, yet it is being used extensively, when one remembers that sometimes nearly one hundred persons are registered daily as going round the course.

Golfing has an assured place in the interest of the people of Staples and next year the interest promises to be larger than ever.

Regardless of what had been written about the Minnesota team I still had confidence, if properly handled, the material was there to work out a formidable team to represent the Gophers. To me the biggest handicap to the Gophers is the lack of a good quarterback, but the team seems to rally to extended heights when MacDougall is inserted into the lineup. The only criticism I could make in Coach Ingerson's plan of attack was his failure to figure in his offensive drive the work of Referee Magidson, as he made more yardage for Iowa than all the Iowa backs. I was not surprised at his work for in all his Gopher games he has been partial to the opponent. Things went on by the Iowa boys that should have been called but only the Gophers. He also took back two touchdowns for the Gophers, one especially very scratchy in its technicality, but the Gophers swallowed his abuse in a good sportsmanship way. Why doesn't the Minnesota coach ever call such officiating? If Crisler would show a little firmness before the game with such officials they wouldn't rub it in during the game and make us like it.

We now prepare for Wisconsin Saturday at Minneapolis and there is no reason if all the little blotches in Saturday's play were corrected why the Gophers shouldn't triumph. The Badgers have a strong team but their game no doubt took more from them than Minnesota's.

AITKIN DEFEATS RANGERS, 18 TO 0

AITKIN SCORES TOUCHDOWNS IN SECOND AND THIRD QUARTERS

Aitkin further demonstrated its football strength Saturday by defeating Crosby-Ironton 18 to 0 at the Rangers camping grounds.

In the first quarter, each team fought hard but no points were made. The second quarter started off with a bang, Aitkin taking the ball around the end and scoring a touchdown. Later they intercepted a C-I. pass and went for a big gain and with two more downs, scored another touchdown, making the score 12 to 0.

In the third quarter Aitkin again scored a touchdown through line plunges and end runs. Aitkin showed more spirit throughout the game than C-I did.

The fourth quarter was the same as the first, neither side scoring.

Aitkin showed clever plays throughout the whole game and intercepted many of C-I passes.

Staples Hunters Report Bagging Share of Birds

Staples hunters are taking advantage of these fine fall days in securing their share of the birds. A number of cars left here Sunday for a trip to the southern part of the state for the shooting of birds, some driving as far as 125 miles each way. The majority report some degree of success with a few getting the bag limit.

WEEKEND FOOTBALL RESULTS KIND TO LOCAL HANDICAPPER

PREDICTS VICTORIES FOR 12 OUT OF 19 GAMES WITH TWO TIES RESULTING

The Daily Dispatch handicapper, after watching Minnesota's Gophers turn their Dad's daygame into a veritable track meet, settled back in his straight-backed chair this morning to begin the painful task of analyzing the outcome of the 19 games listed in his predictions for this week.

But, as the resume got under way the upright-laced chair became more comfortable in that his predictions for last week's games bolster his standing somewhat.

In the Big Ten, the soothsayer found five of the seven games to his liking declaring beforehand that Minnesota would beat Iowa; Northwestern would squelch Ohio State's threat for a championship; Indiana would tame Chicago. He even picked Pennsylvania to defeat Wisconsin and beat them the Easterners did. But, he failed to grasp fully the strength of Michigan who trounced Illinois and Purdue who defeated Carnegie Tech, the latter two contradictory to his prognostications.

The Daily Dispatch fortune teller hda the audacity to think Dr. Spears' aggregation good enough to defeat North Dakota. But, they didn't. It was a tie score as was the game between Yale and Army which we thought would go to the cadets.

The prediction that Columbia would beat Williams 19 to 7 almost came true as did the prediction on the Notre Dame-Pittsburgh game which was viewed as a 24 to 7 victory for the Irish. Actually, Columbia beat Williams 19 to 0 and Notre Dame defeated Pittsburgh 25 to 12.

Predictions for wins also came true in the case of Southern California over California; Dartmouth over Lebanon Valley; Harvard over Texas; Kansas Aggies over Oklahoma; New York U. over Colgate and Navy over Princeton.

The other contradictory scores resulted from the Vanderbilt-Georgia game which Vanderbilt lost; Nebraska's win over Kansas and Iowa State's surprise victory over Missouri.

Behold the standings: 27 games; 17 wins; 10 losses. See you next Friday.

Morrow Residuary to Widow, Colleges

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 23.—(UP)—The will of Senator Dwight W. Morrow, who died recently, leaves the entire residuary to his widow "with every confidence that she will provide for our children," it was learned today as counsel prepared to file the will for probate in the office of the Hackensack surrogate.

A bequest of $200,000 is made to Amherst College, his alma mater; $200,000 to Smith College, Mrs. Morrow's alma mater, and $100,000 to the Smithsonian Institute.

Here's "Hic" Cure

Chicago.—A cheap and inexpensive way to cure yourself of the hiccups is revealed by Dr. L. A. Golden, of the American Medical Association. Take a common paper bag and hold it tightly over the mouth and nose. Breathe in and out of this bag. This causes the carbon dioxide gas breathed off to accumulate in the bag and be breathed over and over again. This excess of the gas often cures the hiccups.

"OLD ROMAN" TAKEN EARLY TODAY AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

DEATH BRINGS END TO EFFORT TO BUILD ANOTHER WINNING SOUTH SIDE TEAM

Eagle River, Wis., Oct. 26.—(UP)—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, died today at his 600-acre Sand Lake estate near here.

The "old Roman," as he was affectionately known to all the world of organized baseball, succumbed at 1:25 a. m. to a long illness which many of his friends declared had its real beginning back in 1919 over the famous "Black Sox" scandals.

His son, J. Louis Comiskey, was with him when he died.

He was 72 years old.

Comiskey's career in the baseball world was without parallel, but he died without realizing his one greatest ambition—to build up another great White Sox team from the wreckage of the championship club which broke his heart and almost broke up baseball itself for a time back in 1919.

He was connected with baseball from his youth to his death and was the only player to come up from the ranks to sole ownership of a major league ball club.

He managed the old St. Louis Browns of the American association when they won the world's baseball championship by defeating the Chicago "White Sox" of the national league in 1886.

Twenty years later he was sole owner of the Chicago White Sox of the American league when they won the world's title by defeating the Chicago Cubs in the famous series of 1906. No other man ever held this double distinction.

In the winter of 1913-14 the White Sox and New York Giants toured the world, playing in London before King George, in Egypt before the Sphinx, in Japan, Australia and other places.

In making the trip Comiskey assumed obligations of approximately $30,000 for the expenses of his players. It was on this trip that he became ill and during the last few years his health would not permit him to attend the White Sox games.

He married Miss Nan Kelly of Duquesne, Pa., in 1881, and two children were born. One of them died. The other, J. Louis Comiskey, is treasurer of the White Sox. Mrs. Comiskey died in 1922.

Cadet Injured in Yale Game Fights for Life

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 26.—(UP)—Cadet Richard B. Sheridan fought for life in an artificial lung today while his mother raced to his bedside from Georgia.

Cadet Sheridan was reported "steadily weakening" today. The cadet's neck was broken Saturday in a football game between the Army of West Point and Yale of New Haven. Only a "miracle" it was believed, could save his life. The last rites of the Roman Catholic church have been administered.

Some of America's great nerve specialists, in New Haven for a convention, treated the injured Army right end. They announced the nerve which controls his lungs had been paralyzed.

They gave him only a "sporting chance" to live until his mother arrives from Augusta, Ga., about 1 o'clock today.

Even if Sheridan lives beyond that hour, the physicians agreed, he will remain paralyzed.

Two fractured and dislocated vertebrae in Sheridan's neck were adjusted by Dr. Harvey Cushing of Boston famous brain and nerve specialist; Dr. Ernest Sykes of St. Louis, and Dr. Samuel Clark of New Haven.

The three performed an emergency operation on the football player soon after he was carried from the Yale bowl Saturday, limp and apparently lifeless, his heart beat barely noticeable, and with none of the 70,000 spectators realizing the seriousness of the accident.

Sheridan's neck had been twisted as he attempted to tackle Lassiter of Yale early in the fourth period of the game which resulted in a tie, 6 to 6.

A racing track for horses is to be built around a thirty-two-acre lake at Miami Beach, Fla.

Three State College Teams Remain Unbeaten

St. Paul, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Three state college conference football teams remain unbeaten today after St. Olaf college of Northfield, an outstanding favorite succumbed to St. John's of Collegeville in one of the biggest upsets in conference history.

The speedy St. John's backs and hard tackling forward wall left the Olaf's dumbfounded and never able to start an attack of their own. The score was 13 to 0. Luckmeyer scored both of St. John's touchdowns.

It was the first defeat for St. Olaf in 10 conference starts and practically marked elimination from the 1931 championship race. The other two undefeated teams besides St. John's are St. Thomas and Concordia.

St. Thomas made hard work of a 7 to 0 victory over Macalester college Friday night. And will go into its game with St. John's on the short end for the first time in years.

The conference standings:

Team	W. L. T.	Pct.
St. John's	3 0 0	1.000
St. Thomas	3 0 0	1.000
Concordia	1 0 0	1.000

Tufts College Students Taken After Initiation

Concord, Mass., Oct. 26.—(UP)—A fraternity initiation stunt climaxed today in the arrest of 18 Tufts College students.

The youths, charged with malicious mischief and disturbing the peace, pleaded not guilty in district court and were released on their own recognizance pending a hearing Tuesday.

State police made the arrests after residents complained the students were cheering and singing in the early morning hours while parading along the Acton-Buxboro road.

STAPLES RESIDENTS GET GOLF BUG; NEW COURSE IS POPULAR

GAME ASSURED PLACE IN SPORT OF TOWN; EXTENSIONS CONTEMPLATED

One of the most successful seasons in its history is the record made this year at the Terrace Golf Course, at Staples, with Claire Hurd at the helm. Golfing is relatively new at Staples but it has already won the enthusiastic support of a number of the residents of the city, and it is a cold or rainy day when the golf course is not visited by at least a score of folks.

Railroad men, just in from the run, doff their overalls, wash their faces, eat their meal and are off for a round of golf, most of them making the nine holes before they return home, and some going twice around for the eighteen holes. Business and professional men, who formerly spent their spare time fishing, are now golfing, and the women are as badly bitten by the bug as the men.

Staples has had representatives in every tournament staged in this district this season, scores going to Wadena, Detroit Lakes and Park Rapids to compete with golfers from those towns.

The site of the Terrace Golf course is about four miles north from Staples, and is in a bend of the Crow Wing river. The land was formerly heavily wooded; the buildings of the club are located on the height of ground overlooking the river. Here steps have been made leading down to the water, dressing rooms have been built, and not only can one get the sport of a game of golf, but they also can have the best bathing in this section of the river.

Only nine holes have been made ready for use up to the present time, but eventually more may be added. The new greens are being kept in fine condition, with Mr. Reichelderfer in charge. While the course is neither large or old, yet it is being used extensively, when one remembers that sometimes nearly one hundred persons are registered daily as going round the course.

Golfing has an assured place in the interest of the people of Staples and next year the interest promises to be larger than ever.

ITALIAN SQUADRON PLANS HAZARDOUS AROUND WORLD TRIP

TO TOUCH AFRICA, NORTH, CENTRAL AMERICA AND OTHER NEAR EAST POINTS

Rome, Oct. 26.—(U.P.)—A flight around the world and over some of the most hazardous sea routes on the globe is planned for a squadron of 24 Italian seaplanes commanded by the fascist minister of air, Gen. Italo Balbo.

Balbo's original intention to fly to the United States via the Azores has been changed to include Africa, North and Central America, Canada, the Orient, the Philippine Islands, India, and the Near East, the United Press learned. It is hoped to begin the flight in November from Lake Orbetello, starting point for the squadron flight to Brazil last year.

The tentative route of the flight follows:

Italy to Bolama, West Africa; Bolama to New York; New York to the Panama Canal; up the west coast of North America to Vancouver; Vancouver to the Aleutian Islands; thence to Japan, South China, and the Philippines; to India, the Suez Canal, and across the Mediterranean back to Rome.

The flight across the Pacific would follow the same route taken by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh to Japan. The heavy fog which delayed the Lindberghs might make formation flying difficult.

ITALIAN SQUADRON PLANS HAZARDOUS AROUND WORLD TRIP

TO TOUCH AFRICA, NORTH, CENTRAL AMERICA AND OTHER NEAR EAST POINTS

Rome, Oct. 26.—(UP)—A flight around the world and over some of the most hazardous sea routes on the globe is planned for a squadron of 24 Italian seaplanes commanded by the fascist minister of air, Gen. Italo Balbo.

Balbo's original intention to fly to the United States via the Azores has been changed to include Africa, North and Central America, Canada, the Orient, the Philippine Islands, India, and the Near East, the United Press learned. It is hoped to begin the flight in November from Lake Orbetello, starting point for the squadron flight to Brazil last year.

The tentative route of the flight follows:

Italia to Bolama, West Africa; Bolama to New York; New York to the Panama Canal; up the west coast of North America to Vancouver; Vancouver to the Aleutian Islands; thence to Japan, South China, and the Philippines; to India, the Suez Canal, and across the Mediterranean back to Rome.

The flight across the Pacific would follow the same route taken by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh to Japan. The heavy fogs which delayed the Lindberghs might make formation flying difficult.
